OVERVIEW

Since 1988, Timothy has developed an extensive practice in a wide range of litigation areas including general liability and health care. He has defended clients in claims made and suits brought against them involving automobile, premises and product liability matters as well as construction law matters and medical malpractice.

Tim is also an accomplished trial lawyer. Based upon his experience and success, Tim has been certified by the Supreme Court of New Jersey as a Civil Trial Attorney. Less than 2% of attorneys in New Jersey have attained this status. His considerable experience has lead to an opportunity to serve as an adjunct professor of legal studies.

In 1985 Tim received his bachelor of arts from the University of Delaware. He subsequently earned his juris doctor with honors from Villanova University School of Law. Tim began his career with Marshall Dennehey Warner Coleman & Goggin in 2009. He is admitted to practice in the state of New Jersey.

Summary Judgment Secured in a Construction Injury Case
Involving a School DistrictSchool Leaders' Liability
May 30, 2025

We obtained summary judgment for our clients, a school district and its board of education, in a construction injury case. The school district hired a paving contractor to install a drainage pipe and to perform paving work at a number of its schools. The paving contractor had to excavate a trench to install the pipe. The plaintiff, an employee of the paving contractor, was working in the trench installing the pipe when the trench collapsed around him, trapping him up to his head and requiring that he be extricated by first responders.
