OVERVIEW

Since joining Marshall Dennehey in 2012, Ryan's practice is primarily in the firm's Health Care Department. Ryan focuses his practice on medical, dental and nursing home malpractice. He has also represented nurses in New Jersey Board of Nursing matters and dentists in New Jersey Dental Board matters. Ryan is admitted to the New Jersey and New York State bars, as well as the United States District Court, District of New Jersey.

Following completion of law school at Seton Hall University, where he graduated cum laude, Ryan served as law clerk to the Honorable Ralph L. De Luccia, Jr, J.S.C., in the Civil Division of Passaic County. Since beginning his legal career, Ryan has concentrated his practice in medical malpractice defense.

RESULTS

no-cause jury verdict secured in wrongful death trial

Health Care Liability

March 24, 2026

We successfully obtained a no-cause jury verdict in a 13-day wrongful death trial. The decedent, a 59-year-old man, was admitted to the emergency room on February 15, 2019, with complaints of abdominal pain, decreased appetite, and constipation, despite the use of laxatives. The patient did not complain of any nausea, vomiting, or diarrhea. He had a significant medical history including diabetes, hypertension, prior coronary artery stenting, morbid obesity (with past gastric bypass surgery), longstanding ventral hernia, and back pain.

Won Unanimous Defense Verdict in High-Exposure Birth Injury Case

Birth & Catastrophic Injury Litigation

December 13, 2024

We secured a unanimous defense verdict in a high-exposure birth injury case, successfully proving that our client's obstetric care met accepted standards despite claims of negligence and lasting injury.

Received a unanimous defense verdict in a high-exposure birth injury case

Health Care Liability

December 10, 2024

We received a unanimous defense verdict for their client in a high-exposure birth injury case. The plaintiff, the mother, alleged the obstetrician defendant was negligent in failing to identify her baby as large for gestational age in the prenatal period, in failing to proceed with a cesarean section during the labor, and in negligently performing a forceps delivery. The plaintiff alleged, as a result of her injuries from the delivery, she suffered pelvic organ prolapse, incontinence, and ongoing pain and suffering.

Obtained Defense Verdict in Complex Medical Malpractice Action

Health Care Liability

October 4, 2024

We won a defense verdict in a complex New Jersey medical malpractice trial, defeating claims that surgical negligence caused severe complications, after undermining the plaintiff's case through expert cross-examination and strong defense testimony.

Unanimous Defense Verdict in Medical Malpractice Case

Health Care Liability

September 13, 2023

We secured a unanimous defense verdict in a three-week medical malpractice trial involving an allegedly botched total knee replacement. Through the testimony of our client and an expert, we were able to establish that all accepted standards of care were met. The jury deliberated for three days before returning its unanimous verdict.
