OVERVIEW

As an Associate in the Casualty Department, Stephanie Andrade represents local and national clients in a variety of civil litigation matters. Prior to joining Marshall Dennehey, Stephanie defended national insurance companies in first-party property suits. Stephanie is committed to serving her clients' best interests and focused on securing favorable results.

Stephanie graduated with her juris doctor from the University of Miami School of Law, during which she participated in the Litigation Skills Program and Death Penalty Practicum. Stephanie also served as a Hope Fellow in the Trial Unit of the Federal Public Defenders Office for the Northern District of Florida and worked as a research assistant in the areas of administrative law and criminal law.

As a double Hurricane, Stephanie graduated early with her bachelor's degree from the University of Miami with majors in Political Science and Criminology. Prior to law school, Stephanie worked as a legal assistant in civil litigation.

Outside of the practice of law, Stephanie enjoys spending time with her family and friends, and volunteering at local organizations.
