OVERVIEW

Anna focuses her practice on Medicare compliance and workers' compensation.

Anna works with clients to handle complex Medicare issues that can arise in both workers' compensation and liability cases. She handles Medicare set-aside cases from start to finish, providing a single point of contact and advice throughout the pendency of each case. Anna assists clients with Medicare set-aside allocations for workers' compensation and liability cases, conditional payment searches, submissions to Medicare for set aside approval, and preparing Medicare language for settlement documents. In addition, her attendance at mediations can help effectively settle cases.

In addition to representing employers in workers' compensation matters, Anna has experience in commercial litigation, premises liability, insurance coverage disputes and medical malpractice.

Anna received her B.A. from the University of Missouri, where she graduated from the Honors College in 2019. As an undergraduate, Anna was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, an honors leadership society, and a Kinder Scholar with the Kinder Institute for Constitutional Democracy. She went on to receive her juris doctor from Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law in 2022. During law school, Anna was a judicial intern for Judge George A. Pagano in Delaware County, Pennsylvania.

Outside of her legal practice, Anna enjoys cooking, pilates, and being an aunt to her newborn nephew, Caleb.
