OVERVIEW

Lance Perez handles matters involving asbestos litigation, product liability and personal injury matters on behalf of his clients. He has defended product liability and wrongful death actions based on alleged defects in clients' products and has represented clients in personal injury and motor vehicle actions. His experience includes defending a major newspaper in motor vehicle claims involving their fleet of delivery trucks. Throughout his career, Lance has also handled motor vehicle and premises liability actions for individual clients.

For over two decades, he had served as New York State counsel for a major commercial truck manufacturer. Over the years, this representation expanded to include an additional commercial truck manufacturer, a prominent construction equipment manufacturer, and a manufacturer of marine products. In this capacity, Lance has successfully defended thousands of asbestos-related lawsuits across New York City and State.

Lance earned his juris doctor from Fordham University School of Law and his undergraduate degree from the State University of New York at Binghamton. He is admitted to practice in the state of New York.
