OVERVIEW

Michael is a member of the firm's Professional Liability Department where he focuses his practice on the defense of attorneys, accountants, insurance producers, corporate directors and officers, and financial institutions, among other clients. Prior to joining Marshall Dennehey, Michael was an associate at a Long Island law firm focused on labor, employment and commercial litigation.

During law school, Michael completed clerkships in employment law for a private law firm and nonprofit legal services organization. He also served as a Judicial Intern for Honorable Elena Baron in the Civil Court of the City of New York and staff editor for the Cardozo Law Review. Further, during this time, he founded the Law and Data Science Society of the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law and participated in the Appropriate Dispute Resolution Field Clinic.

While obtaining his undergraduate degree, Michael was the president of the New York University History Society.
