OVERVIEW

Mari is a member of the Professional Liability Department, where her practice is focused on the defense of employers in employment-related claims involving allegations of discrimination based upon age, gender, race, sexual orientation and disability, as well as retaliation and "whistle blowing" in both federal and state courts. This includes the representation of employers in litigated claims and in claims proceeding through arbitration, mediation and trial. She also handles ADA public accommodation cases. Additionally, Mari has extensive experience in insurance coverage and bad faith litigation as well as defending automobile negligence and uninsured/underinsured motorist claims.

Mari graduated from Mount Holyoke College in 1984 with a Bachelor of Arts in History. She obtained her juris doctor in 1990 from Temple University School of Law.

Prior to joining Marshall Dennehey, Mari practiced in areas including complex commercial litigation and creditor's rights representing financial institutions.
