RESULTS

Defense Verdict Obtained Involving an Employment-Related Shoulder Injury

Workers' Compensation

October 22, 2025

We received a defense verdict on a claim petition in a case where the claimant sustained a shoulder injury during the course and scope of employment. The employer brought the claimant back to work, to a light-duty driving position that caused a limited loss of wages (for about 1.5 months). They then allowed the claimant to earn his pre-injury wages. The job was so light that the claimant was found sleeping in the employer's truck during work hours. He was discharged for cause.

Defense Verdict Secured in a Case Centered on an Employment-Related Low Back Injury

Workers' Compensation

October 22, 2025

We received a defense verdict on our termination petition in a case where the claimant sustained a low back injury when he slipped and fell in an elevator during his employment. The employer had an IME wherein the claimant was pronounced fully recovered from strain injuries. The claimant presented evidence that alleged disc injury and ongoing radiculopathy. The matter proceeded to litigation and a decision on the merits.

Defense Verdict Secured in a Workers' Compensation Penalty Petition

Workers' Compensation

August 12, 2025

We won a defense verdict on a penalty petition filed by the claimant against a mushroom company. In the penalty petition, the claimant alleged that Supreme Court precedent allows the finding of a penalty when a carrier does not immediately issue an award check after a decision on the merits. The check was issued 19 days after the decision (and within the 30-day time period commonly accepted in the business for payment of awards). The claimant argued that payment should have been made within one day of the award.

Defense Verdict Won in a Workers' Compensation Claim Petition

Workers' Compensation

August 12, 2025

We won a defense verdict on a claim petition filed by the claimant, a police officer for the township. The claimant was called to the scene of an active shooter barricaded in his home. The officer was placed in a strategic position outside the home with weapon drawn. The standoff lasted many hours, but was resolved peacefully when SWAT arrived. The claimant finished his shift and went home. The next morning he awoke with headaches, nausea, double vision and dizziness. Ultimately, he was diagnosed with mini-stroke, nerve palsy and resultant diplopia—he was disabled from working.

Successfully Affirmed Workers' Compensation Decision Before the Appeal Board

Appellate Advocacy & Post-Trial Practice

Workers' Compensation

July 25, 2025

We convinced the Commonwealth Court to affirm the decision of the Workers' Compensation Appeal Board in favor of our client, the employer, which upheld the workers' compensation judge's denial of a claim petition. By memorandum opinion, the court found that the judge's credibility findings were neither contradictory nor arbitrary and capricious, and the decision was reasoned.

SIGNIFICANT REPRESENTATIVE MATTERS

Successfully argued that viewing the September 11 terrorist events and suffering a psychological condition did not rise to the degree of a work injury under Pennsylvania law.

Refined the interpretation of workers' compensation case law as it relates to the statute of limitations regarding death claims from medication abuse.

Successfully defeated and/or resolved at base value more than 400 high-exposure hearing loss cases in western and eastern Pennsylvania.

Successfully defended 50 late answer high-exposure claim petitions in eastern and middle Pennsylvania in 2007.

Successfully handled multiple heart attack and psychological claims.

Successfully handled multiple toxic tort (asbestos, silica) cases.
